CAVE

Marcia Wood Gallery is pleased to present CAVE, an exhibition of new ceramics by Andrea Clark, on view from September 9 through October 16 at 764 Miami Circle NE. CAVE is Clark's debut solo exhibition at Marcia Wood Gallery and in Atlanta.

CAVE is a solo exhibition of ceramic drawings and objects by Georgia-based artist Andrea Clark. It is the debut of Clark's series of ceramic lamps and objets d'art created under the moniker CAVE. Signature of CAVE are surrealist-tinged shapes that read as warm silhouettes. The forms often contain openings or passages that allow you to 'see through' the objects and the matte and silky surfaces seem to absorb colors around them. CAVE objects exist comfortably alongside Clark's porcelain drawings; images produced on shell-like paper by building up many layers of liquid clay. The drawings are displayed inside ceramic frames that echo the CAVE objects. From the artist: "The lamps and other objects for CAVE became an extension to the process of making ceramic frames for the drawings. CAVE is the place where all these wild forms cohabitate comfortably. They have all travelled here from my dream world."

Andrea Clark (b. 1990) is an artist currently living in Georgia, USA. She has completed residencies at Greenwich House Pottery (2015), Anderson Ranch Arts Center (2018), and the
